DEDICATION

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1950, hereby dedicate our annual, "Golden Year", to the school that we are leaving after these twelve years of work, and to the desks with our carved initials and excess chewing gum. They have taken our roughness, our yelling, and all our abuses, but not once have they given up.

After so many years of graduating Seniors, the school will be replaced this summer by a more modern building. Although we will all be pleased and thankful we will remember and cherish thoughts of the "Old School". We Seniors, the class of '50, are proud to say that we graduated from its walls.

We thank also the people who have helped us through these twelve years, and the people who have made the publishing of this annual possible.

"In Appreciation"

One of the best known members of our school is our janitor, Mr. Maerkisch. He has been serving our school for the past sixteen years and is always ready to talk to the pupils and help them in anyway. His familiar sight around the school is welcomed by all. To him, we, the class of "50", give our warmest wishes for happiness and prosperity in the future.

About noon time our stomachs start to appreciate the fact that there are two familiar faces waiting for us in the kitchen, Mary Romig and Gazle Hershiser, our cooks.

Class Prophecy

I followed the pilot through the door of the United Air Lines plane, on which I was hostess, and noticed a home town paper lying on the seat. After checking the passengers' safety belts, I retired to the rear of the ship to glance over the local home town news.

As the plane roared skyward, a front page item caught my eye: "Attorney General Robert Deruy Breaks Giant Restaurant Monopoly." To my utter astonishment the article named Norma Conaway as defendant. It looked as if the Department of Justice had finally caught up with Norma.

I went forward to the pilot, Roger Osborn. As he turned the controls over to the co-pilot, he grinned at me and pointed to the picture accompanying the article. Sure enough, there was Emma Jane Brown, Bob's private secretary, sitting by his side, taking notes faithfully.

Roger motioned ahead and I saw the impressive super-highway stretching across the country side ahead.

"You know", said Roger, "Charles Bischoff is the construction engineer in charge of this Ohio Turnpike; they say that he is in line for Secretary of Commerce on the President's cabinet."

Ossy must have seen the questioning look on my face, for he continued, "Oh, I heard all that from Catherine Cook. In her letter the other day, she relayed all the home town news and told me she had been appointed head nurse at Willard Hospital. Catherine also told me that Joe Holden is a veterinarian in North Fairfield and rapidly putting North Fairfield on the map. It seems that he has developed a new animal which is a cross between the cow and the buffalo. Have you heard anything from the others in our class?" Ossy asked.

I told him "Yes, I had stopped off between flights in Los Angeles and looked up Margaret Lee. Margaret is a rather prominent women's doctor in Hollywood. By the way, I was surprised to learn that she sees Joan Minniear quite often. Joan is a private nurse for Hollywood screen stars there, and enjoys her work very much."

"Naturally," said Ossy, with a grin. Just then the buzzer sounded, and I knew that our visit must be at an end.

Class History

Twelve years ago on a September morning, five of our present class members entered school in this building: Charles Bischoff, Emma Jane Brown, Catherine Cook, Joseph Holden, and Margaret Lee.

There were no new members enrolled in the second grade. During our first and second grades we had Miss Tooker as our guide.

During the third year of our attendance in this school, we added a new member, Norma Conaway. Our advisor was Miss Ethel Beck.

There were no additions during our fourth year although we had a different advisor, Miss Ellen Hartzel.

In the fifth grade we had a total of six of the remaining ten members in our class.

As we entered the sixth grade we had three new members. Roger Osborn from Greenfield, Joan Minniear from Willard, and Bueford Risner, who stayed only a short time and then moved away. Our leader in the fifth and sixth grades was Mrs. Elsie Stockmaster.

While in the seventh grade, we were glad to have Mrs. Zuercher as our advisor

We had no additions to our class in the eighth grade. Our advisor was Mrs. Marian Gump.

Upon our graduation from the eighth grade, the upperclassmen held an initiation for us. Jo Ann Herner came from Greenfield school making a total of nine members. Our advisor was Mrs. Robert Price.

As we entered our Sophomore year, we were fortunate to have a new member from Greenwich join us, Robert Deruy. Our advisor was Mr. Francis Freeman.

In our Junior year we were kept very busy with our class Play and the Junior-Senior Banquet along with other things. Our play was directed by Mrs. Francis Freeman, our sponsor.

Finally we have reached the goal which we have been seeking--"A Senior". Our Senior class advisor was Mr. G. Robert Fox.

Class Will

We, the Class of 1950 of North Fairfield High School, do make and declare this to to be our last will and testament. In the hope that some of our special abilities will prepare them to be better Seniors, we bequeath the following to the members of the Class of 1951.

I, Robert Deruy, do bequeath my singing ability to Bud Maerkisch.

I, Joe Holden, do bequeath my muscles to Sam Risner.

I, Joan Minniear, do bequeath my ability to blush at a critical moment to Roberta Garner.

I, Catherine Cook, do bequeath my quietness to Keith Bischoff.

I, Charles Bischoff, do bequeath my ability to make up excuses to Don Smith.

I, Norma Conaway, do bequeath my red hair and temper to Betty Osborne.

I, Roger Osborn, do bequeath my bashfulness to Keith Bischoff.

I, Emma Jane Brown, do bequeath my shortness to Don Smith.

I, Margaret Lee, do bequeath my ability to argue to Shirley Swaney.

I, Jo Ann Herner, do bequeath my liking for scorekeeping to Vilda Beckwith.

We are proud of the spirit of cooperation and good discipline which we have built up in our classroom.

Our class projects are:

1. An exchange library of 150 volumes operated in the classroom exactly as a city library.
2. A science club which encourages supplementary reading and collections in this field.
3. A current events club for social studies.
4. An "Our America" project for which we have collected beautiful pictures, souvenirs, and scrapbooks of transportation, industry, historical points of interest of places referred to in our reading stories.
5. A health and good grooming contest.

The art work in this grade is almost entirely original.

Special credit is given to pupils who bring in carefully prepared reports of additional information in any subject.

The officers are: President----------James Montgomery
Vice-President----------Randall Garner
Secretary & Treasurer-------Carol Morrow

Fifth Grade

TOP ROW: Wayne Lewis, Gary Palm, Ronald Chase, Roger McIntyre, Dallas Eldridge, Windell Eldridge, Roger Chase, Richard Conaway, James Sweeting, Mrs. Eberly.

THIRD ROW: Mike Sanders, Clifton Light, Larry Swander, Thomas Zeigler.
ABSENT: Rose Wert, Mary Brophy, Ralph Cherry.

We have had to work hard this year for we are older than last and our work is harder. It has been enjoyable though, for we have learned so many new things from our textbooks and My Weekly Readers. We have also learned good citizenship qualities so we can be better Americans.

Fun! Yes, we have had fun, too, for "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." We surprised our teacher with a fruit roll one day. We had a Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine party.

Third Grade

SECOND ROW: Betty Jo Farrington, Tommy Osborn, Leo Dotson, Paul McIntyre, Jerry Giles, David Williams, Patty White, Mrs. McNeal.

THIRD ROW: Betty McFarlin, Diana Parker, Alice Bistline, Sandra Dendinger, Alice Atherton, Jeanette Gordan, Donna Mae Vogal, Janice Lykins.

FOURTH ROW: Bobby Houghtlen, John Montgomery, Reginald Phillips, Larry Lee, Ronald Schimpff, Bobby Smith.

ABSENT: Dale Biller.

We have had our customary parties, Halloween, Christmas and Valentine. We have made a Thanksgiving and Health booklet. We have had a project in the sand table on Eskimos.

Second Grade

SECOND ROW: Sharon Mott, Ray King, Thomas Bond, Vivian Eldridge, Tommy Resor, Beverly Bailey, Larry Christie, Patricia Wallrabenstein, Van Woodworth, Marsha Clemons.

THIRD ROW: Kathryn Lewis, Alton Christie, Rebecca McIntyre, Billy Chupp, Richard Bistline, Bethel Risner, Connie Hoyt, Margaret Minniear, Phyllis Houghtlen.

TOURNAMENT

North Fairfield	28	New Haven	49	Lost

We had a schedule of 17 games of which we won one and lost sixteen. Although our season was not very good we are proud of the fact that the team never gave up trying. The team loses only three players this year so next year you can look forward to an experienced team.

The varsity scored a total of 566 points this season, while the opponents scored 986.

Reserves

Our reserves had a schedule of 15 games this season winning five and losing ten. Most of the ones lost were by a close score. A few of the players were jumping from varsity to reserves wherever they are needed most. It is often hard to tell who would play varsity until the game started. All in all I believe we can say that we are as proud of the reserves as we are of the varsity for not quitting when the going became tough.

Industrial Arts

This year was the first year for Industrial Arts at Fairfield. After getting off to a late start the boys finally finished the year with many projects underway. There came out of the shop many projects of both beauty and learning. Through use of hand tools we find many objects of lasting value and significance for our community and selves.

Industrial Arts endeavors to teach boys uses of their hands and mind in developing maturity. This new subject to the school got its start in this county as Manual Training.. It has grown into what is known as Industrial and Vocational Education where a student endeavors to learn a skill while yet in school.

The members in the first two periods of the afternoon were Robert Wade, John Leak, Richard Foster, Bernard Keefer, Donald DeWitt, Richard Adams, Lawrence Burkett, Elden Eastman and Stanley Barker who left at the end of the first semester.

In the last afternoon periods were Sam Risner, Bernard Maerkisch, Charles Blystone, Donald Smith and Wallace Grose.

The boys entered into hand tool operations, little work, wood identification and selections and project building. Each student selects a project to be patterned and assembled in attaining the end of learning tool operations and use.

WE SHOOK THE FAMILY TREE - by HILDEGARDE DOLSON

CAST

Jimmy Dolson	Wallace Grose
Bob Dolson	Keith Bischoff
Hildegarde Dolson	Roberta Garner
Sally Dolson	Faye Barker
Mrs. Dolson	Betty Osborne
Ellie May	Vilda Beckwith
Jill	Shirley Swaney
Paige Mason	Ann Leak
Freddie Shermer	Sam Risner

Mr. Shermer	Bernard Maerkisch, Jr.
Mrs. Shermer	Helen Swaney

Hildegarde is desperately anxious to attract the attention of some eligible Senior, for it's almost Saturday night, and no boy has even hinted that he'd like to take her to the big dance. She wins the school debate with an impassioned plea against drinking, but instead of attracting boys with her brains, she only convinces everyone that her father must be a terrible drunkard. As Hildegarde appeals to her mother for help, the phone starts ringing, with sympathetic women asking whether father beats them all very often, and suggesting that he might be sent to Alcoholics Anonymous. Mother was so horrified at the wild stories that she takes action. She knows a nice boy and she's sure he'd love to go with her. Hildegarde is in ecstasy at the thought, and, though she didn't know the boy's name, can't resist getting back at these popular girls. Poor Hildegarde! How could she know that her mother would pick Freddie, the one boy in school whose old-fashioned parents force him to wear knickers! He's a swell fellow, but those short pants make him the joke of the school. Hildegarde finds out the truth in front of everyone. She pleads with her father to let her break the date, but father is mad, for everyone is convinced now that he's a great drinker. Futhermore, Freddie's the son of father's boss. To make matters worse, it develops that Hildegarde has given a little girl she was supposed to watch some envelopes to play mailman with--but the envelopes that get distributed to all the neighbors turn out to be her father's old love letters to her mother. That settles it--Hildegarde can expect no mercy from her folks, and she's in despair. She reads an ad about Beauty Mud--a substance which will work a miracle on her skin--so she gets some in hopes that her fatal beauty will cause a stag-line stampede. Meanwhile, father, in danger of losing his job at the bank because of all the talk Hildegarde has started, invites his boss out to the house to see for himself how sane and sensible his family really is. As father tries to prove this, Hildegarde, her face smeared with beauty clay, dashes screaming into the living room. The boss is stunned. Then Freddie, goaded earlier by Hildegarde, bursts in wearing long pants. He's hooked them from her brother. The brother rushes in after him and tackles father's boss by mistake. In a laughter-filled whirlwind finish a happy solution is reached that solves Hildegarde's and Freddie's problem.

IF WE CAN SET JUST ONE BOY STRAIGHT -

If this Message can get even one confused American boy, with ears assaulted by the twisted ideologies of the world, to think through to the truth . . . if it can make him know he can be paid in this world only out of what he produces for the world . . that he can go as far and as fast as his abilities and willingness to work will let him, but that no one can ever give him something for long which he does not earn . . that both the lust for power and the surrender to power are admissions of weakness . . that no force on earth can stop for long the principle that you prosper only by giving a little more than you get . . that the horizons of opportunity are exactly as broad as your mind and heart will make them . . that prosperity and peace and satisfaction come only from honest co-operation . . and - finally - any misunderstanding can be cured by honest effort . . . . . .

. . . if we can set just one American boy straight in his thinking, here's one bunch of businessmen who will feel they have done something important for the good of our American way of life.
